

PRINCIPLES OF EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT

A required course for recently appointed county DES coordinators and emergency managers.

The "Principles of Emergency Management Course (G-230)", is a two part 4 day training workshop designed for State of Montana local government officials, emergency management, National Guard and other emergency personnel that are or could be involved in managing, coordinating or supporting emergency operations. This course is for all disciplines that work together in planning for or responding to emergencies. The course will introduce the Incident Command system, which will be used throughout the program. Please attach a check for $15.00 made out to MT DES to the registration form.

This training examines the need for an emergency management system dealing with "all hazards". Topics will include terrorism and bomb threat issues. The importance of team building, team work and professional relationships as a method towards an integrated approach to managing emergencies or disasters will be emphasized. Participants devise specific actions for improving their own contributions to local emergency management teams.

About the Training

The State of Montana, Disaster and Emergency Services Division of the Department of Military Affairs, has developed and adapted this program through the Federal Emergency Management Agency to meet the needs of Montana and our emergency management system. We are pleased to make this course available to local government officials, emergency personnel, National Guard, volunteers and others who may be responsible for assisting with Emergency Management.

This course is required for all newly appointed DES Coordinators/Emergency Managers who were hired after July 1, 1997 that use State and Local Assistance (SLA) funding. 100% reimbursement at current state rates will be provided for those required to take the course. Reimbursement is contingent upon successful completion of the program.

A staff of four experienced emergency managers from State DES and local government present a dynamic and fast paced program that focuses on the basic principles of emergency management, human relationships and situational analysis.

A "Hub" BASED COURSE

Motel and per diem may be available for those who have to travel long distances. For those who are requesting reimbursement for motel and per diem, prior approval from the training manager is required by the deadline date. Funds may be limited depending on available federal funding.
